"READY TO DIE ANY TIME," IS HICKMAN BOAST

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES—Dec. 27.—Death by violence to William Edward Hickman within the county jail was gravely feared tonight—and every precautionary step was taken by Jailer Frank Dewar to prevent it.
There have been dire threats within the jail, where the sulking "Fox" was safely lodged today. They were heard as soon as Hickman's guards had whisked him into the Hall of Justice, through angry mobs that blocked the doors and corridors.
But it is not from the throngs outside that jail officials fear violence. It is from the wrathful prisoners within many of whom early tonight had reached a near state of mutiny because the killer of Little Marian Parker had been harbored beneath the same roof as they.
PRISONERS THREATEN
They informed Jailer Dewar that several of the most vicious inmates of the jail had fashioned clubs out of stolen broomsticks.
"They plan to club him to death the first time he is led past the tank," Jailer Dewar was told.
This has been a grueling day for the "Fox" now turned "Rat." Rushing from the prison car in which he arrived this morning, through a howling, shrieking mob which demanded his life, he was finally dragged into the safety of the jail, but only after one infuriated citizen had broken (Continued on Page 8)

County Funds For San Pablo On Hand; Work Gets Approval

No protests were filed with the council last evening against either the improvement of the main portion of San Pablo avenue, or the center strip, and as a result resolutions were adopted confirming the diagram and assessment of the city engineer.
In this connection, City Manager McVittie stated that the $20,000 that had been donated by the county toward paying the improvement was on hand. A motion was adopted that a warrant for the amount be drawn in favor of the California Construction Company.
STREET OPENING
Objections to the proposed opening of Pennsylvania avenue (formerly Clinton) from Ninth to Twentieth were filed by a number of property owners, who claimed the cost would be excessive.
City Attorney Carlson looked at the protests and informed the council that of the nine protests filed, only two were in legal form.
Monday evening January 9, was set as the date for the formal hearing.
City Engineer E. A. Hoffman told the council that the costs for the opening of the street would not be excessive, as the highest assessment would be but $11 a lot in that section where the actual opening takes place, and in zones farther away there would only be an assessment of $1 a lot. The latter is the assessment that would be placed on lots on Pennsylvania between Tenth and Eleventh streets.
R. R. Commission Permits Key To Abandon Line
The Railroad Commission yesterday granted the Key System Transit company to stop service on that portion of their line in Richmond represented from San Pablo and Macdonald avenues to Grand Canyon.
It was the belief here that the Key System will maintain its bus until the city can make some arrangement whereby residents of the section can be supplied with transportation.
The Key System had originally asked permission to abandon the Sixth, Twenty-third and Ohio street lines but through compromise only the one line was curtailed.

CORONER QUIZ FAILS TO FIX RESPONSIBILITY

The man whose charred skeleton was found November 1 in a declivity on Tapscott hill, El Cerrito, was five feet, eight inches in height, weighed approximately 150 pounds, had sandy colored hair, was dressed in corduroy trousers, dark brown coat, brown hat, a dress shirt and hiking shoes.
This was the evidence deduced by R. E. O. Heinrich, Berkeley Criminologist, from the fragments found beside the remains and offered in testimony last night at an inquest conducted by Coroner Aubrey Wilson.
EXPLAIN REASONING
Dr. Heinrich explained his deductions to the jury and illustrated his findings with portions of the gruesome remains.
Chemicals or a torch could not have been used he declared as clues were lacking in the soil and grass near the remains.
He stated that the man had died some time before a grass fire swept the hillside and had apparently fallen backward into the depression following an attack as from heart trouble, though definite evidence of this was lacking.

BLACKBOARD TALK

The fact that the lower portion of his skull, the soles of his feet and the lower portion of a coat sleeve were damaged less than the central portions of his body, he said, showed that the flames were more intense near the hip portions of the body.
His testimony was further illustrated by means of a blackboard. The jury in bringing in a verdict did not place the cause of death.
Other evidence in the case was presented by Officer Frank Walsh of El Cerrito who testified to the condition of the remains when he had arrived on the scene.
FINDER TESTIFIES
Henry Marco, who first found the remains while hiking over the hills, told of informing neighbors who summoned the police. Deputy Sheriff Ralph Harrison told of investigations conducted following the finding of the skeleton. He declared that three children had stumbled on the remains as early as September 3 and had informed their parents and others.
In the inquest into the death of Captain Martin C. Akers who was found dead in bed by Chief of Police Dan Cox when neighbors had summoned him after the man had failed to put in an appearance for several days, the jury brought in a verdict that death was due to valvular disease of the heart.
Testimony was presented by Chief Cox, Dr. C. R. Blake and Lars Nelson, a neighbor.

SEA MASKS FATE OF BIG GRAYSON PLANE

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Late reports tonight failed to disclose whether the turbulent Atlantic had claimed another victim in the person of Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson and her three man crew of the plane "Dawn."
All day long the navy dirigible Los Angeles sailed above the waves, two navy destroyers and three coast guard destroyers ploughed through them, but not a sign was seen of the missing plane.
DROPPED FROM SIGHT
Last Friday evening Mrs. Grayson, joint owner of the Dawn, hopped off from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., with Oskar Omdal, pilot; Brice Goldschlager, navigator, and Fred Koehler, engine expert. Two hours later they were heard passing over Cape Cod, bound for Harbor Grace, N. F., where Koehler was to leave the expedition before it started on a flight to Europe.
From the time they left Cape Cod until Sunday night, more than 48 hours, no word was heard of the fliers. Then the Canadian government wireless station at

ALBANY MADE TERMINAL IN SPAN PROJECT

Announcing a new transbay bridge project which on the face seems fraught with difficulties, T. A. Tomasini of Larkspur, now proposes to build a bridge from Albany in Alameda county to Bluff Point one mile north of Tiburon in Marin county. Several weeks ago Tomasini announced he would apply for a franchise for a bridge from Richmond to McNear's Point in Marin county.
He now proposes to amend the original plan, to place the east approach to the bridge nearer the heart of the population on the east bay side. He will file his application with the Alameda County Supervisors, February 6.

SPAN 7 MILES LONG

Tomasini gave the length of the proposed bridge as 34,200 feet and built to accommodate vehicular and railway traffic. A span approximately seven miles long, even though it stretched from Albany would have difficulty not to touch or cross the Richmond city boundary in mid-bay, it is pointed out.

MANY DIFFICULTIES

Another franchise from Contra Costa county would thus be made necessary, and it was further added that with this overcome there would be governmental sanction to win.
In making provisions for railroad tracks, Tomasini declined to state if he has made arrangements with an existing railroad to use the bridge. But the fact that the bridge will run from points on each side of the bay where it will be a comparatively simple matter to make connections with the Southern Pacific, yesterday gave rise to speculation whether or not the Southern Pacific is behind the project.
The Southern Pacific tracks on the east side of the bay run close to the bay shore, while on the Marin county side, the bridgehead will be adjacent to the Northwestern Pacific, jointly owned by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe.

FOURTH PROJECT

The Tomasini project is the fourth announced in the past six months to bridge the north arm of the bay.
The first was from the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, Inc., an aggregation of Berkeley men, headed by Roy O. Long. A short time later the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry Company filed an application with the Contra Costa Supervisors. Then came the original Tomasini project. All of these were for a bridge between San Pablo and McNear's Point, the shortest distance across San Pablo bay.
VAN DAMME TO APPLY
A few weeks ago Roy O. Long announced a fourth project in his own name for approximately the same location. He will file the application on February 6, with the Contra Costa Supervisors. And now Charles Van Damme, president of the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry Co. is also to apply for an individual franchise.

"Fake Edition" Paper Selling To Be Stopped In Richmond

"Extra? Wux ra? and other terms yelled up and down the streets of Richmond by outsiders rushing into Richmond and selling fake editions of outside papers, will soon be a thing of the past when City Attorney Thomas M. Carlson prepares an ordinance doing away with the nuisance, that has been carried to extremes in this city.
George Lohrer brought the matter to the attention of the council last evening, when he exhibited an Oakland paper, on the street an "extra" and identical paper delivered to his home as the regular edition. Lohrer said the practice of the "cheap outside papers" had gone to such extremes that business men of the city were objecting strenuously to it. Lohrer said he did not object to local boys selling papers on certain corners, but with what he termed the "bootjacks" coming in from the outside and with voices like bulls, racing up and down the streets at all hours of the night, he thought something should be done to put a stop to it.

COUNCILMAN GEORGE F. BLACK COMELED WITH THE SPEAKER, AND SAID THAT POLICE JUDGE ODELL AND HIMSELF HAD OCCASION A SHORT TIME AGO TO CALL A HALT ON ONE OF THESE "OUTSIDERS." BLACK THEN MOVED THAT THE CITY ATTORNEY BE INSTRUCTED TO DRAW UP AN ORDINANCE THAT WOULD END THE NUISANCE.

"Just leave it to me" said City Attorney Carlson, "and I will see that a stop is put to it."

"POPULATION AREA" SEEN AS COUNTIES GRAB

The attempt of San Francisco to have the federal government create a metropolitan area for population purposes, so that the census of 1930 can be taken on that basis, had a short hearing at the meeting of the council last night, and the matter laid over for one week.
When the communication was read, signed by F. Dohrmann, Jr., chairman of the Regional Plan Association, in which it was asked that an attached resolution favoring the plan be immediately adopted by the council City Attorney T. M. Carlson, promptly advised the council against taking any hasty action in the matter, as it was a matter of some importance.

THE COUNCIL THEN ADOPTED A MOTION THAT THE MATTER BE REFERRED TO THE CITY MANAGER AND CITY ATTORNEY FOR ONE WEEK, TO INVESTIGATE AND REPORT BACK.

INCLUDES 9 COUNTIES

It is the plan of the San Francisco promoters to swell an enormous population to be known as the San Francisco Metropolitan area, to take in nine counties. If this was carried out it would include the counties of Contra Costa, Sonoma, Napa, Marin, Alameda, Santa Clara, and San Francisco. All of these counties would be included in one population tabulation, and everything would be lost sight of but the "San Francisco Metropolitan Area."

If the metropolitan area plan was carried out Richmond would be lost sight of in the population tables. It is not believed the members of the council will be a party to joining in such a movement.

Stop Boulevards Will Be Created

The ordinance designating different streets in the city as stop boulevards was adopted at the meeting of the council last evening.

Corns
Lift Off—No Pain!

Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes and calluses lift right off. You'll laugh! It is so easy and doesn't hurt a bit. Just drop "Freezone" on any tender, touchy corn. Instantly it stops aching. Then shortly you just lift that old bothersome corn right off with your fingers. It works like a charm, every time. Seems magic!

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

CLARA BOW IN FLAPPER ROLE AT RICHMOND

Clara Bow is now a "Keele wahini Lulu."

Sounds terrible, but that is the part she portrays—a flapper of Hawaii—in her latest starring Paramount vehicle "Hula," which comes to the Richmond Theatre for a two day run starting today.

When Miss Bow read Arline Von Tompkins' popular novel she begged studio officials to buy it for her. The Paramount corporation lost no time in securing the rights, agreeing that it undoubtedly was one of the best they could obtain for her.

"Hula" is a story of special life on Hawaii of an American girl, born and raised on "the crossroads of the Pacific" who remains herself and an artificial atmosphere created by an irresponsible set of "fast fivers."

In this interesting but strange situation comes Clive Brook, lead man. The troubles of lively Miss Bow in obtaining her real love make up one of the most fascinating screen tales of the day. Romance, color, smiles and tears are all rolled together in this fast moving story.

The production was directed by Victor Fleming famous for his success with "Mantrap" then "The Rough Riders" and more recently "The Way of All Flesh" starring Emil Jennings.

In addition to Mr. Brook who has demonstrated himself one of the most popular leading men of the day, Miss Bow is supported by a hand-pick cast consisting of Arlette Marchal, Arnold Kent, Albert Gran and Agostino Borgato.

Deris Anderson adapted the novel. The screen play was prepared by Ethel Doherty.

Other film features include "Be My Wife," a roaring comedy and current news events.

Sick Stomach Teaches Her a Good Lesson

Miss Jeanne Ginsberg, Bronx, N. Y., writes: "I had become accustomed to arising each day with a heavy head, dizzy and a bad taste in my mouth. My bowels were frequently clogged and constipated. One day I became so sick to my stomach I had to leave an important job and go home. I tried CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. I feel greatly relieved since using them and whenever my stomach and head goes bad I certainly know what to do." CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are sugar coated, small, easy to swallow, purely vegetable, and relieve the bowels free from pain. They tonic the system as they are purely vegetable and do not contain Mercury, or poisonous drugs. Druggists, 25c and 75c red plugs.

CRITICS HAIL "7TH HEAVEN" AT CALIFORNIA

There is something new under the sun and that is the portrayal of Diane by Janet Gaynor in Fox films version of "7th Heaven," which is now being screened at the California Theatre. The flower like charm of this young actress is something new, appealing, refreshing and spiritually beautiful. Words can not describe the winsomeness of her far dimmed smile, her happy laugh or the manner in which she shows her spiritual growth from a cringing waif to a woman fearless in the face of appalling danger and who meets the worst that life threatens to offer unflinchingly.

Charles Farrell, who also rises to stardom with his performance in the role of Choo, that "remarkable fellow" is equally appealing with his stalwart manhood and his carefree way of leading Diane from the gutter to the long winding flights of stairs to his heaven in a great beneath the stars.

Space does not permit an outline of the story, except to say, that for sheer simplicity and yet the same tremendous interest, it has probably never before been equaled on the screen. The cast, too, is not only an unusually fine one, but each member of it seems to have poured his heart into the interpretation of his or her part. It includes Ben Bard, David Butler, Albert Gran, Emile Chautard, George Stone and many others almost equally well known.

Tolstoy's Servant

The servant went to market to buy pears, of which his master was inordinately fond.

"Good fruit," said the master, "or a beating for you!"

There were delicious pears in the market, and the servant selected a dozen of the finest in appearance. But here entered a doubt: Were they equally good in flavor? Would they satisfy the palate as well as the eye? The more he considered the matter the more anxious he became. That beating if the fruit were not satisfactory!

Desperately he bit into one. It was good. But the others?

Recklessly he bit into a second. It also was good. But how could he be sure the merchant was not cheating on those that remained?

In a frenzy he snatched a bite from all in turn; and then in triumph brought the fruit to his master...

We do these things better in America.

EX-GOVERNOR TELLS OF TRIP AROUND WORLD

A world tour is enlightening but disconcerting, in the opinion of Friend W. Richardson, ex-governor of California, who has just returned from a circuit of the globe and who was speaker of the day at the noon session of the Lions club yesterday.

"I dropped practically all of the concepts I had gained from a perusal of books," Richardson went on to say, "for every point of interest was different from what I had been led to believe."

Richardson declared that the progressiveness of Japan is impressed on the traveler from even a casual inspection of the nation's resources and industry. China he stated was making rapid strides toward becoming an independent nation. The honesty and business ability of the Chinese merchant is admirable and matched in no other part of the world he said.

Richardson returned with a belief in world traveling, he said, since the actual contact with peoples and institutions gives a new appreciation of advantages and handicaps, under which nations work.

Lloyd George In High Popularity

(By Universal Service)
LONDON, Dec. 27.—David Lloyd George, ex-Premier and Britain's "strong man" is one of the most popular personalities in the world. It was revealed recently that Lloyd George's daily mail bag rivals the size of many a popular American film star.

Between 150 and 200 personal letters from all parts of the world are received by Mr. Lloyd

George every day, according to the ex-Prime Minister's secretary, who added:

"There are many people who even believe Mr. Lloyd George is still Prime Minister and there are people who while realizing that he is not, still put faith in him as the only man 'who can get things done.'"

"A large staff deals with the mass of correspondence, and practically every letter is answered. Thus far there have been 4000 more replies this year than for all of last year."

"If you can't get what you want, write to Lloyd George. Appeals come from unemployed ex-servicemen wanting work and old women who have lost relations. A few months ago a woman of 90 wrote Mr. Lloyd George imploring him to find her son, of whom she had lost track of in Canada for many years. The result was a cable to Montreal, announcement broadcast throughout the Dominion and a quick cable home from the 'lost son.'"

Hanna Files New Suit In Battle

MARTINEZ, Dec. 27.—Pursuing its fight for possession of Valon's "red brick house," the Vrockett Land and Cattle Company today filed in Superior Court notice of a motion for a new trial of suit instituted against the American Toll Bridge Company to quiet title to seven-tenths of an acre beneath the Carquinez Straits bridge.

In a recent decision Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie denied the cattle company's plea for a decree quieting title and vested possession of the brick house in the bridge company.

The suit had its background in the condemnation by the bridge company of the small tract of land for a site for piers for the bridge. Subsequently, it moved to a location under the span a brick house valued at $10,000. T. H. Hanna, president of the cattle company, contended that an easement for a bridge and that the land was still vested in him. He, therefore, laid claim to the house and to establish his contention asked the court to issue a decree quieting title. The court held the structure, used to house employees of the bridge company, was a necessary adjunct to operation of the span.

Chicago Art Museum To Get Extension Costing Millions

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—Extension of the Art Museum here, to cost anywhere from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000, now being planned will serve to make Chicago one of the art centers of the world. The plans tentative so far, embody immense additional galleries, classrooms for students, halls for lectures, and facilities for enlargement on the present institution.

A sweeping facade 800 feet long has been proposed among the architects. Structures to be added to the old structure in Grant Park. Still another set of tentative plans propose the destruction of the present building and the erection of a mammoth building extending two blocks from the present site to the center drive along the lake.

The consent of all the property owners along Michigan avenue, on which at Adams street, the present Art Institute stands, will have to be obtained before the proposed additions can be put under construction. But the south park board, which has jurisdiction over Grant Park, believes there will be no objection, once the plans have been definitely agreed upon.

"When property owners along Michigan avenue from Randolph street south to Eleventh street decided Grant Park to the city many years ago, they exacted an agreement that no building would be constructed in the park without their full consent," declared one of the officials of the park board. That is why the art institution is the only building in the park now, with the exception of below-surface structures, of which there are now several. Among these is the Goodman theatre, whose architectural features are lost to the passersby because it is hidden from sight behind the institute. The Field Museum

Hidden Pot Of Gold Results In Prison For Famed Dancer

MOSCOW, Dec. 27.—Alexandra Dunaeff, famous blonde, blue-eyed ballerina, is in jail facing execution because she tried to retrieve a pot of gold which her former wealthy husband had buried before he fled to Paris during the Red revolution.

The G. P. U. political police, stole a match on the ballerina, gold-digger, and on information of its agents dug up a covered iron pot containing 10 pounds of gold coins valued at $40,000. They hid until Madame Dunaeff came along with two hired helpers, and arrested her on charges of attempting to steal treasure which the Soviet government had nationalized by decree.

SOCIETY SCANDALIZED
Moscow's high society, hardened though it was to wild escapades by war and the Kerevsky revolution in 1917, was shocked and scandalized one morning by the news of the secret marriage of Ivan Dunaeff, millionaire match and mahorka (herb root tobacco) manufacturer to the pretty cabaret and ballet dancer Alexandra, 20 years his junior.

Two months later the country landed in the throes of the Bolshevik revolt. Dunaeff hastily buried part of his gold beneath the foundation of his summer villa at Tulupoff, near Moscow, and fled with his bride on an exile honeymoon to a fashionable French watering place. All his property, valued at $200,000,000, was seized by the Communist government.

The romance lasted six years. In 1923 they got a friendly divorce in Paris. Madame Dunaeff married an Englishman named Gaits a few days later and divorced him in two months, police said. It was then that she met the Prince of Wales.

She met her former husband by chance in Berlin this year, she said, and told him she needed money.

TAKING A CHANCE
Death to the Russian refugee who comes back without permission! But she decided to risk it. Slipping by the frontier guards in White Russia was easy, she said, as compared with getting the gold.

The former villa, she found, had been turned into a children's home by the Soviets and entrance without permit was impossible. So she married the assistant superintendent of the home, Krupennikov, without telling him about the plot "until he learned to love her a month later."

They started to dig in the cellar on a rainy night, but were frightened off by guards. The following night they walked into the arms of G. P. U. agents who had just hoisted the treasure out of a nine-foot note.

Christmas eve and a second service was held Sunday morning. Midnight services were also held at St. Mark's Catholic church and Sunday morning, Father Bell, J. S. of St. Ignatius college gave a sermon on "Christ's All Reaching Love." A short morning service was held at the First Methodist church and a sermon given in the evening on "The Romance of Fraud, Liberalism, and Assassination." Special music by the choir lent beauty to the morning and evening services of the First Presbyterian church.

The special sermons on Christmas were delivered at the San Pablo Baptist church. A musical program was given at the First Christian church. A watch-tower study on "Defense and Security" was held by the International Bible Students in Woodmen's hall. A special program of vocal numbers was given at the East Richmond Presbyterian chapel. A sermon was delivered on "Christian Science" at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Richmond. Christmas services were held in German and English with special music at the Trinity Lutheran church.

A special talk was delivered to the members of Unity Center by their leader, Mrs. Joseph. A special sermon and choir numbers were given at Community Methodist church. Regular masses and Sunday school were conducted by the Presentation Sisters at our Lady of Mercy church.

THE SHORT ROUTE TO "VACATIONLAND"

RICHMOND, CAL., December 23rd, 1927

To the Residents of Contra Costa and Marin Counties, California:

A great deal of publicity has been given to the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the State of California which seems to question the right of our ferry company to build a bridge connecting the Cities of Richmond and San Rafael. Therefore, I am about to file an application in my own name with the Board of Supervisors of Contra Costa County for permission to build this bridge, and I take this opportunity to assure both you and the traveling public that I am representing the stockholders of Richmond & San Rafael Ferry & Transportation Co. in making such application.

Very truly yours,

Chas. Van Damme.

HERE are just two of the former college players whose presence in Army line-ups made Navy revolt and demand rule forbidding use of college men in service line-ups. Army refused, and that's all there is to it—there's no game.

Speaking of players who wanted to play other positions at the start of their careers than the ones at which they eventually achieved eminence, John McGraw was telling of when the late Pop Young first joined the Giants in 1917, and made a bid for an infielder's job. Pop wanted to be an infielder so badly that when McGraw told him he'd never make one his eyes filled up with tears and he bit his under lip until the blood ran, trying to hold the tears back.

The Giants trained in San Antonio that year and Pop was trying to land a second baseman's job. He was fighting it out with Little Pete Kilduff, who later played with the Cubs and the Dodgers, and "fighting" is the proper word, Pop "fought" every ball that was hit to him. "Hied slap at them, knock them down, kick them around and do everything with grounders but field them cleanly," related McGraw. "Kilduff, on the other hand, was one of those smooth working little fellows who picked everything up cleanly. Pop looked terrible in comparison and it was soon seen that he'd never do in the infield.

"Son, I told him, 'you're speedy, you hit well and you try hard. You'll make a ball player—but not in the infield.' His eyes filled with tears and I thought he was going to cry right there. He held back the tears all right but not before he almost bit through his under lip."

Made a Great Outfielder
 Kilduff landed the second base job with the Giants and Pop was named out to Rochester, where he played second base, but also patrolled the outfield, learning those garden duties which he later performed with so much excellence at the Polo Grounds. Kilduff didn't last very long, however, and went to the Cubs in midseason for Al Demaree. When Young came back to the

San Pablo Garages Win Over Berkeley

The San Pablo Garage nine scored a 9 to 2 victory over the Berkeley Merchants in their Christmas game played at the old polo fields in Oakland. The San Pablo aggregation faced a hard-fighting combination in the Berkeley team, but played good ball with strong coordination on all sides.

"This is what happened," began Little Buck. "It was a race for steepchase horses—only three going, I repeat. The bookie figured one of them would not finish. He had even money to show for $5,000 against this pony and everybody thought he was dippy in the money box."

"I can't recall the name of this horse, but we'll call him Trippe. The first time around the field Trippe was right there with his two rivals. Two jumps from home, however, Trippe forgot to leap and took a bad flop. He was out cold. The boy tried to remount, but no good. Trippe failed to finish and as a result the bookie, who was supposed to be crazy, won $5,000. See you again!"

Danny McAniff is having a relapse trying to bring home a winner at New Orleans. Maybe Danny is not getting the mounts or maybe the Kentucky bad is in a slump. It won't be long, though, before McAniff gets going at top form. He is a better jockey than generally rated. He was good enough to hold his own with Sampe, Garner, Ester, Muihen and McAttee here in New York last season and I see no reason why he shouldn't outshine the youngsters now performing in the sunny South.

MOVE TO SAN PABLO

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dedini of Martinez moved yesterday to San Pablo, where Dedini has taken charge of the General Garage. Dedini was formerly employed in Allen's garage on Pacheco road.

School nurse, says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling, because it is so pure and harmless and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

NO ONE BELIEVES JACK DELANEY SALE
 Pete Reilly sold Jack Delaney to Joe Jacobs for $50,000, but nobody believes it.

I've heard more buzzing on that deal than any ever made in the fighting game. Every place you go you hear the talent discussing the Delaney sale, and every one of them has a different angle to expound.

You hear that the sale is only a blind and that Reilly still owns Delaney's contract. You hear that the reason for the transfer of the contract is that Reilly wanted to escape the provisions of a blanket contract into which he had entered with Tex Rickard.

This blanket contract stipulated that Delaney fight any heavyweight Tex selected. Perhaps Reilly didn't want to fight any heavyweight Tex selected. Delaney may only want a shot at Jack Sharkey.

At any event, the tongues are wagging and the boys are buzzing. It would be funny, at that, if the sale was on the up-and-up.

Broadway is so used to deception and angles that it refuses to believe anything is what it pretends to be.

ARE THOSE SEVEN-YEAR MEN IN THE ARMY NOW?
 It looks as though the West Pointers and Annapolis sailors will still be in the trenches at New Year's.

Navy sticks to its three-year clause and Army sticks to its dress parades. At least the scrap between the academies adds a full chapter to the Congressional Record and may serve to brighten up that heavy book.

Personally I think West Point and Annapolis are playing a poker game. They're both bluffing and probably the most startled observers, if the annual football game was canceled, would be the cadets and midships.

The issue is whether or not Army is justified in allowing college football players, with three years of college football, to play four additional years of football at West Point.

Superintendent Winans of West Point asserts that the only reason such college players are allowed to enter West Point is that they are physically and mentally qualified to become good soldiers.

I don't doubt his sincerity. However, if he is sincere, let Superintendent Winans compile a list of former college players who went to West Point, played football there, were graduated and ARE IN THE SERVICE NOW.

Do these college football veterans go to West Point to play football or to prepare for any army career? If they go there to prepare for an army career, there is some excuse for their additional football at West Point.

However, if these college veterans LEAVE THE SERVICE after playing four additional years at the plains, then Navy is justified in believing that West Point seeks ringers rather than future generals. Where is the list, West Point?

RICHARD HARDING DAVIS AN ARMY TRANSFER

Any student, upon receiving his commission is allowed to resign. Yet I imagine that the percentage of college football players who resign in a hurry is greater than the percentage of West Pointers who go there direct from high school and prep school.

Elmer Oliphant was one of the first college stars to transfer his sporting brilliance to West Point. Oliphant is commonly regarded as a pure West Point product, but before West Point, Oliphant had starred at Purdue, the Indiana university.

Davis had played at Lehigh, but I think you will find in the records that Davis kicked some field goals for West Point after leaving Lehigh.

And Major Charlie Daly, a bona-fide army officer, first played at Harvard before going to the plains. Daly proved his freedom from ulterior motives by sticking to the service.

It does seem to be more than a coincidence that from years beyond immediate memory, those good football players have ridden their forward passes to Garrison, N. Y.

STUDENTS FIND OLD RELICS
 (By Universal Service)
 COPENHAGEN, Dec. 28.—Discoveries which include 600 decorated vases, 200 bronze objects, swords, knives, razors and rings have been made by the Swedish archaeological expedition at Cyprus, according to a message received by the Stockholm "Dagens Nyheter."

Forty-four tombs have been found by the expedition, according to the message, and twenty-seven have been excavated. The tombs date from the early middle bronze age around 300 B. C. to 1600 B. C.

Capital is Money in the Bank

Stripped of all its high-sounding pretensions, the word "capital" ceases to be awesome or impressive. Simply defined, capital is nothing more than "a stock of accumulated wealth." Money in an American Trust Company savings account is the capital—and very real capital—of the person that is accumulating it systematically, a few dollars at a time. The earnings that accrue from the payment of four per cent interest compounded semi-annually, are important aids to the growth of capital. Open an American Trust Company savings account now and acquire capital for future emergencies.

REGIONAL PLAN GETS APPROVAL OF EL CERRITO

In accordance with the request of the Regional Planning Association the council of El Cerrito last night passed a resolution asking the United States Census Bureau to include El Cerrito in the metropolitan area of the San Francisco district for the next census.

Members of the council and City Engineer Ross L. Calver will make an inspection some time this week of portions of Barrett and Rosalyn avenues in the Mira Vista district to determine what repair work can be done by the city at this time.

A complaint of the poor condition of the streets was made in a communication from Allen P. Brown.

Councilman Phil A. Lee informed the council that if the residents would report the street lights which were out each day to him that he would report to the Western States Gas & Electric Co. and repairs would be made by the following day.

The new contract for electricity from the city street lights with Western States Gas & Electric Co. at the same rate of last year of $292 per month for 250 candlepower and of $405 per month for 400 candlepower lights was laid for one week.

Council ordered notice posted that all persons turning in false fire alarms would be subject to fines and that persons notifying the police department of violations would receive a liberal reward on conviction of the person.

Claims that the El Cerrito park district was already annexed to the city of El Cerrito when the Kensington Lighting District was formed in 1923 and that the county of Contra Costa illegally collected taxes for the district will be investigated by City Attorney Wilbur S. Pierce, who will make a report next Tuesday night.

Agitation for the zoning of El Cerrito is becoming very strong in the city to properly protect the residents from industrial buildings and for a better class of buildings along San Pablo.

Attorney W. S. Pierce was instructed to present a fire ordinance next meeting night, controlling the class of building to be constructed on San Pablo avenue at which time the council will discuss further the advisability of zoning the whole city.

SANTA VISITOR TO KIDDIES AT SUNSHINE CAMP

MARTINEZ, Dec. 27.—Christmas was a great event at Sunshine Camp and the twelve patients there realize today probably as never before that there is a Santa Claus.

The excitement there began shortly after 8 o'clock Sunday morning when Santa Claus arrived from Richmond. After greeting the children, who were at the breakfast table when he arrived, the entire party accompanied him to the school room where a beautifully decorated tree had been placed the night before. When the children trooped into the room they were given a hearty greeting by Santa after which began the distribution of gifts, for which they had made application via mail addressed to Santa at Martinez. And Santa was generous in his distribution too, and the little hearts were made happy.

Accompanying Santa Claus were such well known members of the Contra Costa Realtors Association, who made his visit possible, as C. H. Hayden, president, E. H. Bull, former president, of Richmond; "Cappy" Ricks, of Martinez; secretary; Earl Corey, Mrs. M. A. Hayes and Mrs. Bryant of Richmond.

Many toys that have been made by the wood working department of Liberty Union High school, of Brentwood, and Richmond Union High school, both unique and useful, were distributed to the boys and girls. Suspended from a chandelier and which was the admiration of everyone, was a model of the "Spirit of St. Louis" made by Geo. P. Jackson of Concord.

In the afternoon dinner was served to the inmates and Prevention staff by the Y. L. I. Chapter of Martinez. And, a real dinner, it was, too, with all the fixings of a Christmas spread. Members of the institute seemingly got as much pleasure and joy from the spread they provided as did the youngsters who were their guests.

He was registered, photographed and fingerprinted—undoubtedly for the last time.

HELD ON 2 CHARGES

He was arraigned for kidnaping and murder before Judge Carlos Hardy, who, on motion of District Attorney Keyes, set the time of hearing for the confessed killer at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon to permit the attendance of counsel speeding west from Kansas City to aid the slayer.

He insisted that he would spurn the advice of counsel employed by his mother and plead guilty on Thursday.

He repeated his declaration that he wanted to die.

He learned that though his trial may require only an hour or less—he cannot be put to death until 60 days after he is sentenced.

HINT SUICIDE TRY

He was caught attempting to secrete a spoon in his shirt, which gave rise to the belief he again contemplated suicide. This he denied.

He declared he wanted to see the father of Marian Parker, his child victim, to ask forgiveness for his crime.

Hickman kept out of sight of all other prisoners today, choosing to slouch in the darkest corner of his cell.

WANTS TO THINK

Too, he wants solitude to think. He did much thinking today—after he learned in Judge Hardy's court for the first time that there was one lawyer rushing to his assistance. The lawyer is being sent by his mother.

Hickman denied he would accept the Kansas City lawyer's advice to plead "not guilty."

"I will throw myself upon the mercy of the court," he said. "I will stand by my confession. I will plead guilty, no matter what my mother's lawyer instructs me."

But the authorities do not believe Hickman's denial is a sincere one. They figure his agile brain is turning over and over, devising some plan—an insanity defense or something else—to cheat the hangman.

Hickman has not given up hope—yet. And he displays no fear—except, possibly, a fear that other county jail inmates may fulfill the threats that have reached his ears. Hickman's first view of the county jail was the booking office on the twelfth floor. There he met by Sheriff Trager, and two deputies, into whose custody he was remanded.

A battery of photographers opened a bombardment and Hickman cringed. He was outwardly nervous and his prison pallor seemed more evident than ever.

Convict Albany Man On Theft Charges

Harold E. Kelly of Albany was sentenced to six months in jail and ordered to return stolen funds when he appeared before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Upon his promise to pay back the money and to leave the state immediately the sentence was suspended.

NEW BOOKS IN CIRCULATION AT LIBRARY

Interesting new books for rainy day reading at the Public Library were placed in circulation yesterday:

A MAN UNAFRAID—Bashford. The story of J. C. Fremont. The adventures of "A Man Unafraid" are more fascinating, more inspiring, more illustrative of the superman, than the heroes of fiction. Fremont's life is one of the richest heritages of the west.

WHAT SHALL THE PUBLIC SCHOOL DO FOR THE FEEBLE-MINDED—Davis. The presence of feeble-minded children among normal class groups is one of the baffling situations that confront the educators of today. This book, published by the Harvard University press, offers a plan for special school training under public school auspices.

CAMELS!—Streeter. Another humorous account of travels in Egypt and Abyssinia by the author of "Denatured Africa." MEMOIRS OF CATHERINE THE GREAT—Selections from the autobiographic writings of the famous empress, translated into English for the first time by Katherine Anthony, who's excellent biography of Catherine the Great was published a couple of years ago.

EUROPEAN SKYWAYS—Thomas. An account of a trip to Europe in an airplane. Starting from England the trip covered some twenty-five thousand miles of flight.

MEN OF DESTINY—Lippman. Papers by Walter Lippman, editor of the New York World, on the politics and prominent men of recent times in America. Includes Al. Smith, Calvin Coolidge, H. L. Mencken, William McAdoo, Sinclair Lewis and others, with chapters on the causes of political indifference today, the Kellogg doctrine and the Latin-American situation. Mr. Lippman's analysis and arguments are clever and the book makes lively reading.

YOUR GROWING CHILD—Bruce. Here you have in practical and helpful form the findings of modern science which have to do with successful child rearing. The author says that while the findings of the physiologists, psychologists and psychopathologists have increased the responsibility of parents they have also increased the opportunity of the parent to insure the happiness and success of their children in later years.

LIFE OF THE WHITE ANT—Maeterlinck. M. Maeterlinck here describes the highly organized community life of the white ant. The treatment is similar to that in his "Life of the Bee" and his narrative is as interesting as fiction.

This lamp really lights a room

The money you spend for one of these lamps does more to improve a room than the same money spent for other furnishings.

For the abundance of soft colorful light makes an "interior" seem lovelier. It's just like redecorating the whole room.

These floor and table lamps are different from any other lamp. There is a reflector under the silk shade that diffuses or scatters the light. This is the new principle of design that combines beauty with good lighting and eliminates harmful gloom and glare. Such lighting is kind to your family's eyes.

The lamps have a base finished in silver or gold and there is a selection of four silk shades. You can see them at
